[G]REAT SHIPYARD DAMAGE $40,000

TWO MEN ARE BURNED

Big Plant of Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation Threatened. Splendid Work Done By Firemen In Confining Blaze To Building In Which It Originated.

Two men were badly burned and damage estimated at $40,000 was done at the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a fire started in the coppersmith shop.

The burned men are Thomas Murray and Walter Hauspurg, both employes of the coppersmith shop. Both were badly burned about the face and hands, Hauspurg being the most severely burned.

At the hospital today it was stated both will recover.

When the Alexandria fire department arrived on the scene they found the building a one story brick structure about 100 by 80 feet in a mass of flames which were being fanned by a fierce northwest gale blowing at the rate of about forty miles an hour.

Handicapped For Water.

The volunteer fire department at the yards had organized and made preparation to fight the fire, but they were handicapped for lack of water, the high winds having driven the water out of the channel.

After a short time the Alexandria firemen succeeded in getting several streams on the burning structure and confined the fire to the building in [which] it originated. One stream was [played] on the building directly op[posite] the south side, a one-story [structure], used as a joiners' [shop].

The coppersmith shop and tin shop and pipe fitters' shop were all under one roof.

Machinery Saved

Employes of the yards saved most of the machinery in these shops before the fire gained any great headway. The District of Columbia tug "Fire fighter" arrived on the scene about 5 o'clock and soon had several powerful streams playing on the burning structure. The fire, however, was under control at the time of her arrival.

Gunston Hall Menaced

Close to the burned shop was the giant freighter Gunston Hall, which is nearing completion. This cargo carrier it was first thought might fall a victim to the fire in case it spread and workmen for an hour made her ready to send adrift rather than have her burned. However, this was not necessary and absolutely no damage was done the Gunston Hall which is the boat in which President Wilson drove the first rivet May 30 last.

Praise for Firemen

Had it not been for the prompt action of the fire department and the manner in which they handled the fire the big yards, costing several million dollars, would have been destroyed. The loss is covered by insurance. The firemen were complimented for the able manner in which they handled the fire.

Explosion Caused Blaze

The explosion of a blow torch operated by the two men burned in the copper shop is said to have been responsible for the blaze.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our darling little daughter, ALICE V. RATCLIFFE, who departed this life two months ago today, January 29, 1919.

Gone from earth, yes gone forever,
Tear dimned eyes shall look in vain
We shall hear our darlings voice never,
Never more on earth again.

Our little darling now is sleeping
No care is on her brow,
Oh blame me not for weeping
For I lost my darling now.
She was called from this world for a peaceful rest,
Called by God who knoweth best,
Sweet in our memory she will always be,
Until in Heaven I hope to meet her again.

By her mother and father.

GERMANY MAY NOT ACCEPT PLAN

Delegates Will Go To Paris Not To Sign on Dotted Line

WANT TO CO-OPERATE

Claims Freedom of the Seas is Ignored and That Former Colonies Are Disposed of Without Teuton Consent

Berlin, March 29.—Germany will not accept the league of nations covenant in its present form. Her delegates will go to Paris not to "sign on the dotted line," but to discuss and offer "positive co-operation." Her chief objections to the present draft are:

That the freedom of the seas is ignored; that her former colonies are to be disposed of without her co-operation and consent.

The German Foreign Minister, Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, makes these things clear in an interview with the Berlin correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung.

Paris, March 29.—Apprehension that Germany will not sign the peace treaty as being formulated is growing daily. There is more talk of war in the French press than there is of peace. The names of Marshal Foch and Gen. Mangin figure as prominently today as they did a year ago.

Will Germany play the racoon or Bolshevik? She may cross her arms

GERMAN IMPORTS BARRED

Teuton Hopes of Reconquering American Trade in Dyes Has Received Another Blow

Washington, March 29.—German hopes of reconquering American markets received another blow, yesterday Users of dyes, chemicals, fertilizers and other products originated by German science were notified by the Alien Property Custodian that importations from Germany hereafter would be subject to prosecution as infringement of patents licensed under the trading with the enemy act for use by American manufacturers.

Possibility of a dumping of great surplus stocks which Germany was reported to have accumulated with the intention of underselling and perhaps stifling the infant American industries in the same lines thus has been blocked effectually before shipments could begin. Government officials regarded the decision of far-reaching importance to business in this country.

The decision was announced in a letter from Alien Property Custodian Garvan to Burwell S. Cutler, chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

BOLSHEVISM IN HUNGARY

Conservatives Threaten Counter Revolution if Regime Continues

CHARGE OF TREASON

Soveit Government Will Resort to Any Measures to Put Down Opposition Russians Will Vie With Hungarians

London, March 29.—Conservatives in Hungary are threatening a counter revolution if the Bolshevik regime continues, a Vienna dispatch reports.

The conservative element is said to have accused Count Karolyi of treason in turning the country over to the Bolsheviki.

The Soviet government according to the dispatch, has decided to use every force to put down opposition.

Dispatches received from Austrian sources said it was reported that the Russian soviet government has offered Austria a defensive and offensive alliance.

A general railway strike has been proclaimed througohut Austria according to a disatch from Vienna today. The strike is said to be impeding food shipments and stockes in some places are dangerously low.

Fear was expressed that the strike may be only preliminary to a political uprising.

The new Hungarian Minister to Vienna stated in an interview, it was learned today, that Communists and Socialists reached an agreement to institute the former's program in Hungary.

Life in Budapest is again normal the minister said. Business suspended for a few days to allow the government to take an inventory, has been resumed. Socialization is being performed gradually and without shock.

EXCITEMENT IN THE VALLEY

Death of Young Hudson Adds to Existing Resentment

PETER'S STATEMENT

Prohibition Commissioner Alleges His Agents Were Fired Upon First by the Bottleggers.

The death yesterday in Winchester of L. D. Hudson, the eighteen-year-old boy who was shot Wednesday night when Raymond Shackelford was instantly killed by prohibition inspectors, has added considerably to the excitment already existing in the Valley town. There is, however, no disorder.

Hudson was wounded twice, once in the breast and again in the abdomen. Surgeons said either shot could easily have caused his death.

As soon as the death of Hudson was reported to Commonwealth Attorney Clayton Williams, of Shenandoah county, he telegraphed to the chief of police at Richmond asking the arrest of the six detectives. Up to a late hour the prosecutor had not heard from Richmond as to whether the men were there.

Relatives claimed the body of Hudson last night and plan to take it to Danville this afternoon. He was the youngest of the family of Mrs. Lucy Hudson, of Danville.

Richmond, Va., March 29.—The Rev J. Sidney Peters, State Prohibition Commissioner, upon his return yesterday from Winchester, declared his agents were fired upon by Raymond Shackelford, the alleged bootlegger killed near Woodstock, Va., before they returned the fire in self-defense.

Asserting that the agents would be exonerated, Commissioner Peters said the officers had their automobile blocking the road against Shackelford's machine, which attempted to ram the obstructing motor, knock-

DRIVE WILL END NEXT MONDAY

Response to Appeal Made by Red Cross Gratifying to Committee

HOPE TO REACH GOAL

Allotment is 6,000 Pounds—All Urged to Send in Donations Before Monday Night.

The drive for clothing for the European war sufferers will end Monday night. Alexandria hopes to go over the top. Already a goodly portion of clothing has been received by the committee in charge of the drive. All who have not yet contributed to this worthy cause are requested to send in their donations of clothing by Monday night to the headquarters of the local chapter, 806 Prince street. The allotment for Alexandria is 6,000 pounds. If you cannot bring it in phone 183.

Alexandrians have responded most generously in the Red Cross drive for used clothing for our allies, and every one who has contributed, and those who intend to contribute to this worthy couse may certainly feel that he or she has answered truly humanitys call to humanity.

The response of the people last September for used clothing for the Belgian refugees was one of the most splendid expressions of the brotherhood of man that the Red Cross has ever known. It was not a case of people giving away their cast off clothing which they no longer wanted, but of sharing of giving "a coat to him that hath none." our gift in this case is certainly a concrete expression of thanksgiving that our country has been protected from invasion, and we ourselves saved from the horrors of war by the heroic efforts of the nations that now need our aid.

The reports made to the American Red Cross by investigations into the actual conditions in the recently occupied territory in Europe is appalling, and have revealed a state of des-

CAPSIZING OF SCHOONER

Identity of Ill-Fated Vessel Has Not Been Established

ALL ABOARD DROWNED

Accident Occurred off Mouth of Wicomico River—Steamer E. Madison Hall Stands by Half an Hour.

A large, two-masted schooner, the identity of which had not been established late last night, capsized in a heavy squall and sunk with all on board in the middle of the Potomac River off the mouth of the Wicomico River Thursday afternoon, according to E. Madison Hall, owner of a steamer bearing his name. He reached Alexandria last evening.

The E. Madison Hall stood by for 30 minutes or more with buoys and lifelines ready said Mr. Hall, but saw none of the crew of the foundered vessel.

Mr. Hall said it seemed that all on board the schooner were caught beneath the craft when it went over. The steamer was about half a mile away when the wrecked ship sunk.

The E. Madison Hall waited until Mr. Hall was satisfied there was no chance of picking the survivors and then proceeded to port, reaching here last night almost 12 hours late. The steamer plies between Alexandria, Washington and Nomini.

The Wicomico River is about 10 miles down the river from Coloniel Beach and about 60 miles from Alexandria.

According to Mr. Hall, the schooner had all sails down when his boat sighted her in the Kettle Bottoms. A particularly heavy squall struck her and she careened twice until her masts almost touched the water. The third time she capsized. The masts show about one-third out of water and the wreck constitutes an obstruction to navigation, in the center of the channel.

Efforts last night to establish the identity of the sunken vessel were unsuccessful.

ISAAC MAYER WISE

One hundred years ago Isaac Mayer Wise was born in the little town of Steingrub, Bohemia, in an oppressive environment opposed to the new ideas of freedom which were being suggested vaguely at the time. Neither at Prague, where he studied, nor at Radnitz, where he served as Rabbi, could he find the hospitable environment for the freedom of thought for which he so ardently longed. He was unable to endure the restraints imposed by the government and by the backward loyalists. For this reason he dreamed of coming to America, the land which par excellence spelled liberty and independence of thought.

His hope was realized in his twenty seventh year. Upon his arrival in 1864, he found American Jewry composed of two elements, the Portuguese and the German. The former, after years of residence in America, had become enamored of modern culture and were fine men and women, excellent American citizens. The German element, on the other hand, consisted of recent immigrants who were occupied chiefly in making a livelihood and who were backward during their immigration days in assimilating the type of culture prevalent in America. The young men of the German group, with the Portuguese element as an example longed for participation in American life. They did not find in the Portuguese element a solution of the difficulty which confronted them, that of harmonizing Jewish traditions and modern culture. The Portuguese element had not addressed themselves to the solution of the problem. Hundreds and hundreds of Portuguese families had disappeared through inter-marriage. Those who remained

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM

The almost sudden transition which has taken place in our city during the past year by the addition of thousands of persons to our population with their many demands have given representative Alexandrians a number of interesting subjects to consider. Most of those needing immediate attention have been met or are being met, while others imminent in the near future by the location of hundreds of other strangers in our midst are being given the attention they deserve.

Since the augmentation of our population an inconvenience which was in evidence years ago, but which had been eliminated, has reappeared. We refer to transportation between Alexandria and Washington. There seems to be plenty of trains in operation, and they run at short intervals, but persons returning to Alexandria during the latter part of the day are often subject to "tieups" which cause them to remain in Washington or upon the road sometimes hours after their day's labor is over.

Alexandrians returning home late yesterday were subjected to a tantalizng experinece. Trains were blocked on Maryland avenue and remained there an hour and a half. The trouble is generally ascribed to the current, which comes from Benning's and is it is said not sufficiently powerful to meet the many and increasing demands upon the plant at that place.

A few years ago comparatively few Alexandrians were employed in Washington. Since the outbreak of the war, however, hundreds of young people have taken places in government departments and other places in the capital city, and early trains and late trains are generally packed, some often being forced to stand upon the platforms of the cars.

The officials of the company, we hope, will take a gentle hint and be able to relieve present conditions.

RECENT FIRES

There were several alarms of fire yesterday and early last night. There was, however, but one which caused apprehension—that which brought the department to the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation shortly after four o'clock in the afternoon. An explosion had injured several workmen and started a fire in one of the shops. It was at first supposed that the fire-fighting devices and men at the plant could cope with the situation, but when the employees started to work they made the alarming discovery that, for some reason, they could not obtain a sufficient uupply of water. The Alexandria firemen with their apparatus soon appeared and labored heroically, but they, too, were handicapped by the scarcity of water. The tide was abnormally low by reason of the fierce northwest wind which had prevailed during the previous twenty-four hours, and a message was sent to Washington for assistance. The Firefighter, the steamer used by the authorities of the District of Columbia to fight blazes on the river and river front, was dispatched to this city and two fire engines came over the road, and with their assistance the fire was kept from spreading to any great extent.

While the damage will amount to many thousands of dollars, the conflagration could have been far more serious. About the time the firemen and employees at the plant were fighting the flames the blasts from the northwest were seemingly stronger than before.

During the prevalence of high winds alarms of fire bring anxiety, no matter how far we may be removed from the scene of conflagration, and the greatest care should be exercised by all to minimize as much as possible such catastrophies. The fact that water could not be secured yesterday afternoon will cause an investigation.

THE VALLEY TRAGEDY

Court investigation of the circumstances leading to the killing of two alleged bootleggers by prohibition agents, and the surrounding of the latter by a mob which clamored for their lives, should be so searching that its findings may serve as a guide to action which will prevent the repetition of such lamentable and disgraceful scenes in Virginia.

The above is suggested by the Richmond Times-Dispatch, which further observes that "events are coming to pass even as it has been predicted by thousands that they would with the growth of illicit liquor traffic and the ill-advised methods by which agents of the prohibition department, in their eagerness to make captures and confiscate contraband, seek to check it. The list of dead and injured is increasing, and it will continue to grow unless a radical change is brought about. Perhaps the tragedy on the Shenandoah Turnpike and the ensuing mob scenes in Winchester may serve as the needed warning which shall bring it about.

"There is no doubt, in the face o f news dispatches, that the two men who fell victims to the pistols of the agents were violating both the State and Federal laws by transporting liquor. And, whether or not they did begin the battle, there is no doubt of their preparedness to take human life, because pistols and ammuniton were found in their possession. These facts are established and are proof positive that they took their lives into their own hands when they started through Virginia with their illicit cargo. But it may be pertinent for the courts to inquire if the officers had abided by the law, and if they had provided attempting to make the arrests. It is said that they had stopped and searched every automobile passing along the highway, but by what legal authority, beyond the sanction of the prohibition department, it is not stated. The court, of course, will inquire if it was necessary for them to draw their pistols if, as one report states, they began the fatal fusilade, while the bootleggers at that time not proved bootleggers, were attempting to reverse their car and make their escape."

EX-KAISER'S DELUSIONS

Prof. Adolph von Harnack was William II's advisor for many years. He recently said: "We frequently disputed about God and religion. The Kaiser was a Joan of Arc who failed. He suffered from spiritual possessions." I often tried to convince his Majesty before the war that his orthodox interpretations of the Bible were obsolete and dangerous. "When he was himself, the Kaiser was a kindly, peace-loving man. He was very sentimental and modest, but the illusions which came to the Maid of Orleans came to him. I have seen him when a strange light came into his eyes. When the idea that he was the instrument through which the Deity spoke overpowered him, his voice would change and his manner grow curious."

Prof. von Harnack further said "that the Kaiser is gone and that something else has come in his place. Bolshevism has come. The hunger of the German people today threatens the world more than did the sword of William II. Bolshevism is a form of ungodliness that has come into the world.

"The father of Bolshevism is Socialism."

"Does German theology reconcile religion and war?" the professor was asked.

"Yes," he said. "God has nothing to do with war. This I told the Kaiser, but he differed with me. He held that Heaven was concerned with the doings of the world and that God took sides with His chosen people. The Kaiser believed that he was of the chosen."

UNREST IN THE WORLD

The spread of Bolshevism is causing anxiety to thinking people in all civlized countries. It was long supposed that this satanic agency would be confined to Russia, but this illusion has long since passed away. Agents of these destroyers and looters are found everywhere, even in Paris where delegates from the nations of the world are endeavoring to formulate peace plans.

The Bolshevists are enemies of all religion. They believe in the elimination of churches, and should this organization spread and become powerful in every clime, which, is its aim, the time may come when religion may not be found walking in her silver slippers and it will become necessary to run a risk in witnessing for the faith. The war will be against churches as well as governments which endeavor to curb the will of fierce men.

That the world war has developed restlessness, spiritual as well as material, is the admission generally of statesmen and leaders in the church. At no time, possibly, since the beginning of the Christian era has religon been so menaced as at present. On the other hand, it may be said that at no time has there been such unanimity of effort against the forces of darkness and sin as the world is today witnessing. Belief and unbelief seem to be massing as for a gigantic struggle, and if one may judge from the signs of the times there is slowly but surely evidencing a drawing together of all the forces which make for law, order and righteousness to meet and to overthrow whatever menace there may be in all the "isms" which have recently come into being.

Millions of dollars are being raised in the United States and in other countries for the spread of the Gospel and for various church activities. Numerous forward movements attest to the unity of purpose of Christians regardless of factional divisions. Jew and Gentiles, Catholic and Protestant, all seem to sense the battle cry, for the menace to one is the menace to all.

The situation is well stated in a recent editorial in the Guardian, the official organ of the Church of England, published in London, which says in part:

"On every hand discontented workmen are striking for more money and less work; no sooner is one demand conceded than another is sprung upon us, often with little reason. The political domain is full of incipient Bolshevism. Masses of men are dissatisfied—they do not always quite know why; but man is the most imitative of all animals, and while some countries are sympathetic to naked revolution, others respond readily to those more subtle forms of revolt which consist in strikes and general unsettlement."

Jews, adhered to the forms of Judaism with a stubborn rigor that precluded harmonization of any kind.

"How to be Jews in a modern environment"—this was the problem of Issac M. Wise. This problem he faced and eventually solved. His solution captured the imagination of the Jewish youth, and Judaism was thus assured a future in America.

Dr. Wise's first position at Albany was unfavorable for a carrying out of his plans. He therefore left the unpropitious environment of that place and came to Cincinnati where he found a group of men imbued with the same ideals and willing to have him guide them. These associates helped him found a newspaper, the "American Israelite," in which he communicated The establishment of the "Israelite" represented the first step in the elaboration of the machinery for the conservation of Judaism.

His next step was the formation of a Union of Congregations. He caught where there is no distinction between layman and rabbi. Each layman was to be a priest in the cause of Judaism, which should no longer be the exclusive possession of the rabbis.

In order to preserve Jewish learning, he established the Hebrew Union College. He disagreed with the pseudo-scientific notion that religion opposes the spread of knowledge, but, on the contrary, insisted that Judaism is incompatible with ignorance. "Ain Am Haaretz Chasid;" an ignoramus cannot be a religious man.

His final step was the organization of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. Through it he wished to preserve oral tradition, bring together a group of learned men whose combined judgment should represent the living well-spring of Jewish tradition.

This year we celebrate the centenary of the birth of Isaac M. Wise. The problem of reforming and adapting ourselves to our environment is a thing of the past. We are now interested not so much in assimilating ourselves as in settling down to a permanent residence in America and to a long period of religious self-determination. Fifty years from today the majority of the Jews in the world will be living in America. Here is where the Jewish problem will have to be selved. No solution that overlooks conditions in America or that takes action only of conditions elsewhere than in America will solve it. We must insure our religious survival. No time is more proptitious than the present moment. Let us throw off the lethargy of former days. Inspired and heartened by the end of the world war and by the dawn of the era of peace, let us begin to build firmly the structure of American Judaism on the foundation stone laid by Isaac Mayer Wise. each week with a large circle of Jews.

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS.

Fifty Thousand Wanted for Overseas Service—Enlistment Will be For Three Years

Washington, March 29.—An immediate call for 50,000 volunteers for service in Europe has been prepared by the War Department and probably will be published today. As an incentive to enlistment the men will be offered early duty in France as a relief for men in the expeditionary forces who wish to return home.

Enlistment in this special force will be for three years. The men will be concentrated at Camp Meade, Maryland, and probably will be sent overseas in contingents 1000 strong.

GALE SINKS SHIP

Philadelphia, March 29.—Caught in a 60 mile an hour gale, the steamship Joseph J. Cueno sank near the harbor of refuge at Delaware Breakwater yesterday. The cargo of 17,000 bunches of bananas, valued at $50,000, was destroyed, but the boat may be salvaged. The Cuneo was bound from Port Antonio for Philadelphia.

Other vessels were caught in the storm and damaged. One—the tug Augustine—probably will be a total loss.

Judicious Advertising

The question of whether or not advertising pays has been debated time and again—in every corner of the world—and always there has been the same answer

IT DOES PAY

The Gazette goes into practically every home in Alexandria and your advertising is read every evening by more than 3,000 prospective shoppers. And these readers are the ones the local merchant must depend upon for his support.

Some merchants persist in the alibi that too many people shop out of town. This fact shows that the average person does read advertising and that if local merchants took more pains in putting their merchandise before the public there would be less out-of-town shopping.

A Suit Season Was Predicted And it is Certainly Here

The vogue for suits grows, and causes but small wonder when one notes the fetching boyishness of some of the new box-coat styles, the youthfulness of the straight vestees, and gaiishness of the new blouse jackets.

Of course most of these new suits show the narrow skirt.

Braid trimming is quite a feature, and it is applied in straight or criss cross effect.

Gabardines, Poiret Twills and Oxford mixtures, also serges, which are perhaps the most popular of all. For one reason serge is very serviceable.

These new suits are shown in tan, gray, rookey, navy and black. All sizes.

At $25.00, $29.75, $39.75

HURT AT PROVING GROUND

700 Shells and 4 Magazines of T. N. T. Set Off at Aberdeen; —$60,000 Loss

Aberdeen, Md., March 29.—Fifteen soldiers and civilian workmen were injured, several seriously, and property valued at $60,000 destroyed when 700 240-millimeter shells and four magazines loaded with TNT exploded at the government proving grounds shortly after noon yesterday.

Last night soldiers and workmen had nearly all left the vicinity of the explosion. The firemen have also left. It is understood that another large TNT magazine is in danger of fire reaching it and exploding. Officers are noncommunicative, and say Washington has an official report. Workmen who left the grounds declare the danger is not over and that there was some loss of life.

Four explosions occurred within 20 minutes. The first wrecked the experimental shell plant. The fire caused by this explosion caused four magazines and the 700 loaded shells to blow up.

A workman was melting TNT in the experimental plant and had poured it into a 240-millimeter shell when it exploded. The man had just left the building when the impact occurred, and, aside from being shell shocked was uninjured.

The measure terms criminal syndicalism a doctrine which advocates crime, sabotage, violence or other unlawful methods of terrorism as a means of accomplishing industrial or political reform and makes advocacy of it a felony, punishable by a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment in the penitentiary for 10 years.

PLAYS HIS HUNCH; GETS PEEPING TOM

Waukegan, Ill., March 29.—Playing "hunches" is Scott Peters favorite pastime. Scott is a full-blooded Indian graduate of Carlisle University and conducts a cleaning establishment here.

He had a presentiment somebody might attempt to rob his home and declined to accept an invitation to a dance. His wife, himself and three companions remained at home. They waited. Suddenly Mrs. Peters noticed a face at her bedroom window as she was preparing to retire. It went alway immediately. Presently it reappeared. This time she screamed just loud enough for Scott and his companions to hear, but hardly loud enough to disturb the intruder.

Peters and his friends dashed through a door and in a mad foot race overtook Albert Johnson, aged eighteen, not a burglar, just a "peeping" Tom.

German Government to Establish Court to Probe Responsibility for War

Berlin, March 29.—The German government has decided to establish a State court to try all German personages involved in the responsibility for the war, including General Ludendorff and ex-Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, according to the Weimar correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt.

This decision was taken as a result of the rejection by the entente of a German proposal for a neutral tribunal to examine the war documents of all principal belligerents.

CUT THIS OUT

Special Notice: Dr. Frederick Jacobson says that phosphates are just as essential to any woman who tires easily, is nervous or irritated, worn out or looks haggard and pale, to make a strong, robust, vigorous, healthy body, as they are to make corn, wheat or any vegetable plant grow strong and healthy. The lack of phosphates is the cause of all enemic conditions and the administration of 5-grain Argo-Phosphate Tablets will increase the strength and endurance 500 per cent in a few weeks time in many instances. Dispensed by Richardson and The Rexall Store.

SUICIDE FEARED HE WOULD NEVER DIE

Philadelphia, Pa., March 29.—Fearing that ever reckoning Death had overlooked him and oppressed by the fact that all of his old friends were leaving him to answer the final call, Frederick Layton, 100 years and 3 months old, hung himself to bed post. Layton, who came here from England forty years ago, was one of the oldest men in this section of the country, and was well known in this city.

In his younger days he was a trainer of race horses, and was a prominent figure at the British race tracks, where he hobnobbed, he claimed, with King Edward, at that time Prince of Wales. The centenarian attempted suicide a year ago, failed. Several months ago the neighborhood gave a large entertainment in his honor and presented him with a 1,400 purse.

His spirits seemed to revive, but recently he became melancholy seeing all his friends die, and decided to join them of his own accord.

SWEAR IN "CLOUD COPS"

Squadron in New York to Have Planes by June; May Land on Top of Buildings

New York, March 29.—Plans of the New York police department for a "cloud cop" section materialized yesterday when 26 American, British and French aviators were sworn in in the office of Deputy Police Commissioner Rodman Wanamaker as members of the police reserves.

Col. Jefferson de Mount Thompson who will command the police aviation squadron, announced that uniforms for the aerial patrolmen had been ordered, and that planes would be ordered in May at a meeting of airplane manufacturers in Atlantic City. The squadron probably will take the air by June, he said.

According to Col. Thompson, the squadron, when completed, will comprise 150 men, including fliers, mechanicians, supply officers, medical officers, a chpalain and cooks.

Landing places will be at Governors Island, Van Cortlandt Park and Sheepshead Bay. Later, he said, landing places probably will be constructed on the tops of high buildings. Both land and sea planes will be used, he said.

DETROIT WOMEN BREW OWN BEER

Detroit, March 29.—The brewing of home made beer has become a Detroit industry. Nearly every householder has become skilled in the gentle art of brewing, and fourth-story and basement breweries are thicker than frogs in a mill pond.

The home brew rates as high as 12 per cent of alcohol indeed has more kick in it by long odds than had the beer sold before prohibition. House wives take as much pride in the quality of their beer as they do in the quality and texture of their home made bread.

Five pounds of hops, a small package of malt, a little filter-masse, and who cares for prohibition

A local pharmaceutical firm is doing a land office business in the sale of prepared malt. A brewer's supply house, one that formerly sold its products in car load lots to the legalized brewers, is now catering to the household trade, in five-pound packages. Autos are parked for half a mile around the place.

At the outset, recipes for making beer, and more or less personal direction in the art, were freely given to the patrons of the place, but, today ,there is no time for such things. The supply house is too busy selling hops to bother about recipes.

TURKS SLAY ARMENIANS

Massacre Occurred Recently at Aleppo, Athens Hears.

Athens, March 29.—Advices from reliable sources at Constantinople state that a massacre of Armenians by Moslem gendarmes occurred recently at Aleppo. It is reported that 48 Armenians were killed, 111 seriously wounded and 150 slightly injured. It is alleged that the gendarmes burst into the Armenian market and attacked the people assembled there and that the troops in the barracks at Aleppo did not arrive on the scene until two hours after the massacre.

The authorities have arrested 200 persons and will try them before court-martial composed of two British, one French, two Armenian and two Arabian representatives.

RAIN—BLINDED MAN DROWNS

Takes Wrong Road and His Horse Walks Off a Ferryboat

Uniontown, Pa., March 29.—Evidently blinded by a heavy rain storm, Robert P. Kefover, aged 62, a well-known farmer of High House, drove his horse into the Monongahela River Thursday, and was drowned. The horse also was drowned.

Kefover, in a buggy, was on his way from Masontown to High House. Losing his way, supposedly, he took a road that led him away from High House, instead of toward it. The horse went to the edge of the Monongahela River, drew the buggy up the gangplank of a ferryboat, and then stumbled off into ten feet of water at the other end of the boat. Kefover's body was found 400 yards downstream. The horse and buggy were completely submerged.

LEAP FROM BURNING HOME

Family Walks Mile Through Snow in Night Robes.

Hagerstown, Md., March 29.—Leaping from second-story windows in their night robes, Roy Macklester, his four children and mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Cassidy, narrowly escaped death when their home near Clearspring burned Thursday night. The refugees walked one mile barefoot through the snow to the nearest house.

Harry Lieffman's three-story brick lumber mill was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning with valuable manufacturing stock and machinery, entailing a loss of $12,000, partly covered by insurance. C. M. P. Molley's pipe organ factory, adjoining, was badly damaged, the loss amounting to $10,000, covered by insurance. Henry Keedys brick dwelling was badly damaged. Frank L. Bentz, a fireman, was run over by a hose truck and had a foot mashed.

BOLSHEVISM IN PARIS

Arrivals on Metz Train Arrested; Nine Seized in Holland.

Paris, March 29.—Two Germans named Eli Markenstein and Aaron Siegol, were arrested when they alighted from a Metz train in Paris on Tuesday, it became known yesterday. They had no tickets, but carried passports from Berlin. The authorities believe that the Germans are bolshevik agents and M. Priollet was appointed to conduct an investigation. The Germans are now in the Sante prison.

A report from Amsterdam quotes the Handelsblad as saying that nine bolshevik agents who escaped from Germany were arrested Wednesday in the province of Guelders. Their identification papers were not in good order and several of them carried revolvers.

ILL TREATMENT OF BELGIANS

Huns Deported 125,000 Men During The War.

Brussels, March 29.—Six thousand Belgian civilians died during the war as the result of German ill treatment according to an official report made in the chamber of deputies Thursday during a debate on the reparation due civilian victims of the war. Seven thousand children were made orphans and 125,000 men were deported from Belgium by the Germans.

The indemnity which can be claimed from Germany by Belgium on this account is estimated at 180,000,000 francs. The minister of economic affairs declared that all damages will be fully indemnified by the Germans

TWO DIE IN FIRE

Hotel Guests Routed by Blaze That Destroys Lumber Plant.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 28.—Two men were burned to death and 100 guests of the Bestler Hotel, nearby, were forced to flee yesterday when the the street early yesterday when the Ardmore Lumber and Supply Company's plant at East Pittsburgh was destroyed by fire.

The men perished with six horses trapped by flames in the lumber plant. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

EXCITEMENT IN THE VALLEY

ing down two of the prohibition officers. W. C. Hall, in charge of the prohibiton squad, according to Commissioner Peters, jumped on Shackelford's machine, whereupon Shackelford fired three shots at Hall, one passing through the officer's coat.

Richmond, March 29.—Prohibition agents involved in the killing of Raymond C. Shackelford and Lawrence Hudson, alleged bootleggers, on the Valley Turnpike, near Woodstock, early Wednesday morning, surrendered last night to City Sergeant J. C. Chichester, of Fredericksburg, upon learning that a second warrant had been issued for their arrest.

This warrant, charging murder, was issued immediately following the death of Hudson, an eighteen-year-old Danville boy, in a Winchester hospital yesterday afternoon.

Harry F. Sweet, former Richmond policeman; W. C. Hall, W. B. Dunlavey and J. H. Sullivan are the men named in the warrant.

MAY NOT ACCEPT PLAN

and say, "We will not sign your treaty do your worst," which would mean that the allies would have to occupy the whole of Germany and run the country as a referee runs the estate of a bankrupt for the benefit of the creditors. The allies in that event would become responsible for feeding all civilians until the new harvest.

Paris, March 29.—Official reports are bearing out recent unofficial dispatches from Germany and Austria, indicating in those countries increasing ripeness for Bolshevism, it is learned.

In fact, these advices are understood to have impressed the peace delegates to such exetnt that there is a pronounced spirit of leniency toward Germany developing in unexpected quarters.

For instance, the British viewpoint on the question of reparation and establishment of a Polish "corridor" from the Posen region to Danzig solution of which has been among the principal stumbling blocks to speedy completion of the peace treaty, has been considerably modified.

The idea originally expressed by Premier Lloyd George for Germany to pay all the costs of the war, also has been abandoned as well as a subsequent claim for all damages resulting from the war.

A high British authority said it would be unwise now to attempt to exact more from Germany than she could conveniently pay within the next twenty or thirty years. An excessive bill, he said, would simply fertilize the field already sown to Bolshevism.

INJURED IN EXPLOSION

Baltimore, March 29.—Many men were injured and thousands of dollars worth of property was wrecked at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds yesterday when an ammunition dump in the trench warfare section of the grounds exploded, setting fire to all the barracks and many of the other buildings in the grounds.

The ammunition on the dump was for the most part three-inch shrapnel sheels, and for more than an hour after the first explosion small explosions continued sending a hail of shrapnel bullets over the surrounding country.

Officers at the post command denied that there was any loss of life, but employees who have reached Baltimore say that they don't believe it possible that such a series of explosions could have occurred without loss of life, as many men were working around the dump.

The post command said that 15 or 16 men had been removed to the hospital at the grounds, but declined to give any information as to their injuries or their names.

Richmond—"Out of the Fog."

"Out of the Fog," adapted for the screen from the powerful drama, "Ception Shoals," and which will be shown at the Richmond Theatre tonight, gives Nazimova, the splendid Russian actress, untold opportunities for her rare artistry.

"Out of the Fog" is a story of mists and winds—the scenes the rock-bound coast of Maine and the treacherous shoals of the lonely lighthuse in the Caribbean sea. Here Eve was born—a child of love—abhored by her uncle for her unconventional birth, cut off from all human things—her only companion the wheeling gulls and cygnits—the white capped rolling waters, the storm winds and gentle trade zephers. The play is one of calm and storm—fire and passion.

This is the picture that stopped traffic on 9th street where policemen were called to hold back the crowds.

Ingomar—William Russell

Stephen Fox, scenario writer and Henry King, director for William Russell productions, have combined to give the popular star one of his best photoplay attractions in his latest offering "Where the West Begins."

There are no dull moments in the story, which travels at a brisk speed, and is brimful of snappy, laughable situations.

Admirers of William Russell will see him in one of the best characterizations that he has given to the screen, and all will find much to praise in this latest offering.

"Where the West Begins" will be presented at the Ingomar Theatre tonight.

DOUBLE BILL MONDAY

The release by Arteraft of "The Devil Stone," coming to the Grand Theatre next Monday, marks the sixth Geraldine Farrar production filmed at the studios of the Lasky Company since the famous prima donna first entertained the field of the photoplay, two years ago.

It is interesting to note that all of the Farrar productions have been created by practically the same working organization, including the director, Cecil B. DeMille, who has been responsible for the staging of the entire series of remarkable features, and Jeanie MacPherson, who wrote the scenarios for the six photoplays.

titution far greater than we in this country can possibly realize.

The discovery of this great need compelled the Red Cross to supply with clothing these unfortunate victims of war, and as "The greatest mother in the world" has taught the people of the world to look to us for help we most not fail them now, in the hour of their dire destitution.

We generous hearted Americans are glad of the opportunity and the privilege to help our afflected allies, and are eager to give unselfishly when we realize that among the pathetic stream of refugees pouring back into their devastated homes there are many thousands of little children. This fact is brought strikingly home to us in the following by Theodosia Garrison.

"Refugees"

(Dedicated to the American Committee for Devastated France)

My children in their sheltered garden play
With sound of laughter and with footsteps fleet;
There was a garden bloomed in France one day
As cool and sweet,
Now burned and desolate. Any they
Who ran and laughed there? Little tired feet
You stumble now along a weary road
By mothers in whose hearts all sorrow meet.
My children in their sheltered garden play,
With sound of laughter and with footsteps fleet,
But, O dear God, those little tired feet
That stumble on a road in France today.
